SCOTUS Resources

ALL THINGS SCOTUS:

- SCOTUSblog (https://www.scotusblog.com) is devoted to covering the U.S. Supreme Court comprehensively, without bias and according to the highest journalistic and legal ethical standards. The site is provided as a public service. Tom Goldstein and Amy Howe, husband and wife, founded SCOTUSblog in 2002.

- Oyez (pronounced OH-yay, https://www.oyez.org) is a free law project from Cornell's Legal Information Institute (LII), Justia, and Chicago-Kent College of Law—is a multimedia archive devoted to making the Supreme Court of the United States accessible to everyone.

- Empirical Scotus (https://empiricalscotus.com) was created by Adam Feldman after SCOTUSblog quit doing its STATPACK. The blog is designed to look at contemporary and historical Supreme Court issues at an empirical level ranging from examining Supreme Court attorneys, the Justices, and other actors in the Court to analyzing decisions and oral arguments.
